

Geoglossary: David Woolson

Customers (noun): a person who buys goods or services from a business

Free Enterprise System (noun): a system that allows business to make most of the decisions themselves

Spend (verb): to use money to pay for something

Save (verb): to keep money for the future

Investor (noun): a person who gives money to something he thinks will be successful

Goods (noun): items that a person buys and takes with them

Service (noun): things you pay to have done for you

Producer (noun): someone who provides a good or service

Consumers (noun): a person who buys goods or services from a business

Profit (noun): money that is made in a business

Expense (noun): money that is needed to buy something

